

Illinois Updates – March 18, 2022

Candidate Filing Begins

Monday morning marked the beginning of the candidate filing period for the 2022 general primary. More than one hundred political hopefuls gathered outside the State Board of Elections headquarters in Springfield before the doors opened at 8:00 a.m. to file petitions for political office. Those in line before 8:00 a.m. were eligible to enter a lottery for their name to be listed first on the ballot. Ballot placement has been shown to impact the outcome of races, particularly when voters are unfamiliar with the candidates. The petition filing period lasts for one week, and the 2022 general primary will be held on June 28th.

Madigan Pleads Not Guilty

Former House Speaker Michael J. Madigan was arraigned on federal racketeering and bribery charges Wednesday. The arraignment was conducted by phone, a practice that has been used since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic. Madigan's attorney entered his plea of not guilty. Also arraigned during the remote hearing was Michael McClain, Madigan's long-time associate, who was previously indicted on charges related to the U.S. Attorney's investigation of Commonwealth Edison.

Madigan and McClain have been charged with 22 counts of racketeering, bribery and extortion. While the indictment includes multiple counts related to the ComEd bribery scheme, it includes new charges that Madigan provided political favors in exchange for business for his law firm and business for his son's insurance company. The new charges resulted from the cooperation of former Chicago Alderman Danny Solis, who wore a wire during meetings with Madigan. According to the U.S. Attorney, Solis sought a high-paid appointment to a state board or commission in exchange for directing potential clients to Madigan's property tax practice. Solis was also involved in a similar plan to have Madigan assist with passage of land transfer legislation in exchange for legal work for a related real estate development. The next hearing in the case is scheduled for April 1, 2022 in Chicago.

House Democrats Split on Madigan Projects

Nine Democrat House members asked Governor JB Pritzker this week to freeze multiple capital projects requested by former Speaker Michael J. Madigan following his indictment on bribery and racketeering charges. The projects were funded by the 2019 Rebuild Illinois program. The lawmakers based their request on the need for greater scrutiny of any public expenditures linked to the former Speaker's considering his indictment.

The nine members failed to make their request known in advance to Democrat colleagues who represent districts that will benefit from these projects. Those lawmakers, primarily representing Hispanic and Latino majority communities have objected to freezing the projects. After hours of discussions on Wednesday, the original request was rescinded, but Governor Pritzker said that the state Department of Commerce and Economic Development (DCEO) and the Department of Transportation (IDOT) would review the projects “out of an abundance of caution.”

House Votes to End Mask Mandate

Representatives approved a change to the House Rules on Tuesday allowing for masks to be optional on the House floor. The vote followed weeks of discord in the chamber regarding the mask rule, mainly along partisan lines. Governor Pritzker had ended the state’s mandate for indoor use of masks in most public places on February 28 and ended the mask mandate for K-12 students last Monday after the Illinois Supreme Court said they would not overturn the circuit and appellate court rulings against the school mask mandate.

House committees will continue to use remote hearings in addition to hybrid hearings, much like the Senate has conducted hearings this session. The Illinois Senate announced this week that they would also go mask-optional but will continue to require anyone seeking access to the Senate to provide proof of a negative COVID-19 test. Both House and Senate chambers are open at fifty percent capacity.
